Tuck Sweeney is a Consultant who works with clients across all of Ratliff & Taylor's three practice areas. In addition to interfacing with clients on large-scale projects, Tuck offers guidance and expertise in the areas of public speaking, powerful presentations, and executive presence.

Most recently, Tuck served as a Client Engagement Specialist with a NYC-based talent management firm where he contributed to record-setting monthly revenue capture and supported the executive team on several workflow optimization initiatives. He was also a key contributor on a task force researching and integrating a variety of OpenAI features into job search and hiring processes.

Tuck graduated from the University of Michigan with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree. He is an accomplished musician and has worked as a professional stage, television and screen actor with roles in Harry Potter and the Cursed Child (San Francisco), Good Vibrations (New York), Double Helix (New York), and Law and Order SVU.

Away from work, Tuck is a music instructor and avid reader who enjoys yoga, NBA trivia, and quality time with family.
